In this story, two elves catch an old monk when they patrol the mountain and wait for their king back to eat the monk together. But the old monk would rather stay hungry than eating the meat that the elves give him. Now he is so hungry that he is dying. So, the two elves decide to sneak into a village and learn cooking. They then master how to make the spring cake in spring, the new tea in Grain Rain (the 6th solar term), the chestnut cake in autumn, the dumplings in winter.
